

World-class boat trailers protected by a global coatings leader

Setting a new standard in long-term protection for MYCO Trailers products

MYCO Trailers is a world leader in custom, all-welded boat trailers. Our mechanical engineers design each trailer around the boat, resulting in the most precise fitting and best-towing trailers in the industry. That level of precision and performance demands high-performance protection, which is why we've chosen PPG as our official coatings partner.

PPG is a global coatings leader with 140 years of experience protecting everything from cars and houses to packaging and industrial equipment. In fact, PPG enhances more surfaces in more ways than any other coatings company, making them the ideal partner to protect and beautify our products.

PPG's DELFLEET ONE® paint system is an innovative, truly revolutionary solution that delivers exceptional color capability, painter-friendly application, versatile speed control for all types of jobs and the industry's lowest VOC ratings.
